Commissioner,

Please see the information below. There are eleven on our watch list. We will get further details on them.

This is what we have been able to pull together at this time. Better, to see it come to you in increments as opposed to waiting for it all at once.

a) OPS has indicated that, as long as public safety is not at risk, they have no plans to force convoy participants to egress from the downtown core on Saturday. They remain firm on ensuring that any parked vehicles do not impede emergency vehicle access throughout the downtown core. OPS has reached out to the hotel industry in the NCR, who have confirmed that accommodations are fully booked through the weekend, but appear back to normal as of 2022-01-31. OPS do not want to create a flash point by forcibly removing any convoy vehicles. OPS Police Liaison team remains in constant communication with the convoy organizers, who are readily engaging in positive dialogue. Obvious concern is tied to extremist and fringe groups.

b) OPS has indicated that while there are no plans to break things down, the PLT will remain engaged with organizers, decision to move protestors will be based on public safety and not public convenience. Ingress and egress routes to Parliament Hill have been established. The RCMP is providing service to Ministers who wish to be supported on 2022-01-31 in accessing the grounds of Parliament Hill for the resumption of Parliament.

c) In the event that the protests turn violent, the use of force continuum will be applied and public order units will be deployed as and when required. OPS has a full public order team, OPP have two public order teams that are supporting Parliament Hill, Toronto Police has a troop here with mounted units, London Police, Durham and York Region also have public order troops present in the NCR. This is in addition to the RCMP's CIP program, which includes the National/NHQ TSG (Rideau Hall), O TSG (Parliament Hill and OPS) and C TSG (Harrington Lake).

d) In the event that protestors demonstrate outside of a Parliamentarians residence, the first point of contact is Ottawa Police Service. The RCMP is preparing with surge capacity, to support the POJ, should this be required. In addition, the RCMP remains actively engaged with the SAA on ensuring that, based on threat and risk, the appropriate protective measures are afforded to Cabinet Ministers.

4. ITAC Assessment- Terrorism and Against Uniformed Personnel remains at MEDIUM

RCMP TA's for PM and GG remain at MEDIUM.

Ongoing threat and risk assessments underway to inform protective posture.

PM and GG protective posture has been increased significantly.

Fluid posture for Parliamentarians (Senators, Cabinet, MP), in collaboration with Corporate Security partners in the Senate, House of Commons and OPS.

5. OPS and OPP PLT continue to work closely with the organizers of the event. Collaboration between all security partners in the NCR remains strong.
